Overview

The Beyond My Club (26+) Development Program was introduced in 2015 and received overwhelming interest and support. Surf Life Saving New South Wales (SLSNSW) will be continuing the 'Beyond My Club (26+) Development Program' in 2018. A large amount of feedback has been collected from the past two programs and a number of enhancements have been made to the program for 2018.

The program will continue to bridge the gap in formal development opportunities for new members aged 26 years and over. It will encompass all aspects of Surf Life Saving from a club perspective including but not limited to member recruitment and development, educational pathways, sport participation and lifesaving skills development. A key focus of the program will be to promote best practice initiatives that can be tailored to an individual club's needs.

Applicants should be aged 26 years or over, have attained their SLS Bronze Medallion within the past 3 years (since 1 June 2016) and ideally not have participated in previous SLSNSW development programs. Additionally, they should have a level of organisational involvement within their club so that the ideas learnt and shared at the program can be taken back and implemented.

The number of positions available on the program will be increased to 20 with at least one participant per branch (11) based on a branch determined prioritisation process. The remaining 9 participants will be selected by a panel consisting of SLSNSW Board representatives and program facilitators.
